

1 ABSTRACT

2 A method is described for conducting an exchange for value in the 3 context of a tradition associated with deciduous teeth. The method includes the 4 step of providing a token redeemable for value at a predetermined place of 5 business. The tooth is handled in accordance with the tradition. The tooth is 6 replaced with the token, which is subsequently redeemed at the place of 7 business.